

Demolition

Demolition of the front wall of the old fellowship hall, including the First United Methodist Church lettering, occurred early in the morning of April 17. That wall was quickly reduced to rubble, as the excavator operator simply swung the mammoth grapple against the wall and pushed it over. It was an unsettling moment, relieved only by the knowledge that a new, larger, state-of-the-art fellowship center would soon rise in its place.

