

Pouring the Foundations

Trenches with rebar are poured with concrete to form the building foundation.

The concrete is leveled after pouring to support the block walls that will be added later.

